

Thinking about life insurance and don't know where to begin? Here is an offer that can help you make that decision:

For a limited time, Canada Life is offering some of the lowest rates with a premium discount on new qualifying Canada Life My Term life insurance policies. With Canada Life My Term™, I can help you choose a term length from five to 50 years so you're only paying for what you need.

If you are starting the New year focused on your financial goals and wish to ensure that your family and their well-being is taken care of let us discuss your options. Term life insurance can help you plan for your future while helping you protect the ones you love. The promotion is valid for insurance applications submitted before January 31, 2022.

Discounts are 15% on a 10-year term policy. 10% on all other term insurance policies. Our term offering starts with 5 years and is available for upto 50 years (maximum insurable age is 85 years)

If you are interested, I would love to connect to help you get the insurance protection your loved ones deserve. If you know anyone who would like to minimise their financial risk by taking term life insurance, please feel free to pass on my name.
